DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN

EASTERN DATES TO OCTOBER 19

EASTERN STATES

Proceedings of the National Board of Trade

NEW YORK, Oct 19.—The National Board of Trade to day indefinitely postponed the resolution to memorialize Congress to repeal the duty on railroad iron. The Boston Board of Trade submitted the following

Resolved, That the National Board of Trade reaffirms emphatically its declaration of December, 1871, that it is incumbent upon the National Government to prepare by moderate but steady contraction of legal tender currency, for the ultimate resumption of specie payments by the National Treasury and National banks, and believes such contraction, instead of curtailing the legitimate credit and industry of the people, will rather tend to enlarge them by checking unwarranted speculation, thus restoring capital to its proper channels by greatly enhancing the value of all National securities, by restoring sound and just standard of value, by substitution for the fixed unelastic volume of irredeemable paper, the precious metals and credit legitimately based on the amount which is practically inexhaustible

A lively discussion ensued, which ended by the adoption of an amendment asking Congress to revise the National bank system so as to provide ultimately for its consumption of specie payments

A resolution from the New Orleans Board to memorialize for the construction of a ship canal from deep water of the Mississippi river, near Fort Philip, to the gulf. A resolution from the Mobile Board, asking Government to survey Florida, with a view of cutting a ship canal across it, was adopted.

A resolution passed Congress to amend the bill now pending to reduce the weight of a silver dollar to 384 grains by adding one grain and eight-tenths, or less than half of one per cent to the proposed weight, and bear on the face the word "Liberty."

A vote of thanks to the Chamber of Commerce for hospitality, passed. Adjourned.

The Ex-Boss Again.

It is learned at Tweed's law office to day that Tweed is quite ready to appear and offer bail. He will do so when required. Also that the ex-boss is within thirty minutes ride of his office, and did not meditate flight at all. Very little excitement in regard to the matter about the City Hall.

Straightouts Rampant.

ST. LOUIS, Oct 19.—The Executive Sub Committee, Straight Democratic State Committee, will issue an address to the people to morrow, presenting to the citizens of Missouri O'Conor and Adams for President and Vice President; also a full electoral ticket, embracing the names of several quite prominent citizens of St. Louis and the State. The address reviews the Reform movement and declares it a failure. It states there is no candidate now in the field who represents it or the Democratic party.

According to the Code.

ATLANTA, GA, Oct 19.—G. K. Townsend and Houston F Force, two young men belonging to most respectable families, fought a duel last evening with double barrelled guns charged with buck shot, forty paces. The former was seriously wounded at the first fire.

Suicide.

ALBANY, N. Y., Oct. 19.—The person who committed suicide at Stanwick Hall on the 2d inst. was not Levison, of San Francisco, as reported. The name of the suicide is still a mystery.

More "Fastest Time."

LEXINGTON, Oct. 19.—In the trotting races to-day, Price's black colt Doble won the race of two year olds mile heats, best three in five. In the first heat he distanced his only competitor by making a mile in 2 40½, the fastest two-year-old time on record.

Destructive Fire.

The Chicago Union Bolt and Screw Company's works, on the extreme northwestern part of the city, was burned at 7 o'clock this evening. Loss, $160,000. Insured for $50,000.

Accident—Small Pox.

LOUISVILLE, Oct. 19.—Benj Bartlett Miller and Mike Morian were fatally wounded at a stone quarry in the suburbs by a portion of the ledge of rock falling on them.

The reports about the small pox have been greatly exaggerated. The cases have been mostly among the negroes. The disease is on the decrease.

WASHINGTON CITY.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—The Treasury Department received to-day by express, the Cuban flag taken from the privateer Pioneer, forwarded by the captain of the Moccasin, which captured her.

BY ATLANTIC CABLE.

From London.

LONDON, Oct. 19.—The Board of Public Works voted almost unanimously in favor of removing the tolls from Waterloo toll bridge across the Thames. A conference with the Government for carrying out the measure will shortly be held.

Two Fanatics.

PARIS, Oct 19.—Sumner visited Gambetta yesterday and expressed the warmest sympathy with the French Republic. Gambetta was deeply impressed by the interview.

ARIZONA.

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 20.—The Arizona Miner, dated Prescott, October 12, has the following: On Sunday last, John Koch living near Prescott, was shot and instantly killed by a Mexican named Nevins.

It is a singular fact that the wife of the murdered man has had inside of ten years three husbands all of whom have been murdered.

A letter from Camp Grant, says: Walcott of the Texas Pacific Railroad survey, with an escort under command of Major Babcock, of the Fifth Cavalry, left Grant last week for Camp Bowie via Aravica Cayon and Valley. His two parties are expected to arrive here in a few days from Tucson. They come to examine the American valley for railroad purposes.

INTERIOR CALIFORNIA DISPATCHES.

SAN DIEGO, Oct. 20.—S. O. Houghton and A. D. Splivalo, speak here to-morrow evening, then go to Julian City.

The sloop Flirt from Guadalupe Islands, Captain Clancey, reports heavy rains on the Island this summer, so that very few goats come in, only 3,000 skins have been taken during the season.

VISALIA, Oct 20.—Col Kewen's speech last night was principally a eulogy of Jeff. Davis, Gen Lee, Beauregard and other rebel leaders. At the conclusion, a call was made for cheers for Jeff Davis. The response was very faint.

CALIFORNIA.

From San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct 20

Judge Reardon opens court to morrow. One indictment for murder, and one for manslaughter.

The ship Southern Cross, twelve hundred tons burden, arrived from New York, 122 days out, she has been chartered in advance for a load of wheat for Liverpool.

An apothecary in Portland, Maine, recently injected according to request, an arsenical preparation instead of creosote into the cavity of a tooth of a railroad conductor, who left the store and took the train for Montreal, but on arriving at Island Pond was compelled to call a physician, he felt so ill. Some relief was afforded him, but after reaching Montreal he was very sick, and all of one side became paralyzed. He intends to bring an action against the apothecary for $5,000 damages unless he pays the expenses of his illness and a bonus besides.

The workmen on the Mount Washington Railroad have a way of adjusting a board to the rails and sliding down very fast. Recently a Frenchman was descending rapidly, and a heavy mist prevailing, he ran into a locomotive, killing him instantly.

OREGON.

Hon J. H. Mitchell will speak at Eugene City this, Monday, evening.

A large lot of fine stock is to be offered for sale at auction, in Salem, on the 31st instant.

There are about two hundred children in attendance on the public schools at Eugene City.

From some parts of the Valley we hear a complaint not often heard in this country, a scarcity of apples.

Roseburg will give a grand ball on the occasion of the iron horse reaching that place, which will be soon.

A Jackson county farmer has raised 10,000 pounds of onions on one half acre of ground the present season.

One of the four Greeley Republicans in Lane county has gone back on Horace. Two others are said to be getting weak.

Some scoundrel has been Kukluxing the dogs and cats of Albany. Large numbers of these animals have been poisoned lately.

The barbers of Jacksonville have consolidated. There is now but one member of the tonsorial "profesh" doing business in the place.

Tom Richmond and Dr. Sites, accompanied by several other Nimrods from Polk county, went on a trip last week and brought back twenty one deer.

Farmers are complaining that the "early rains" are too long delayed this fall. The ground is so dry and hard that not much plowing can yet be done.

The wife of Jack Grant, late Representative from Polk county, has shot and trapped 368 squirrels the last year. What lady can discount that score.

The Indians in the vicinity of Klamath Lake last week stampeded a drove of cattle belonging to Wm. Miller, of Lane county, and got away with a number of them.

The Commissioner of the General Land Office has decided that coal lands are mineral lands, and subject to sale as such. This decision was made on an appeal taken by some parties wishing coal lands on tracts claimed under the land grant of the Coos Bay Wagon Road.

The McMinnville paper says: "A considerable quantity of wheat is being taken to Portland from this county in wagons. When men can afford to haul wheat thirty-one miles from a section of country visited three times a week by steamboats there must be something wrong about freight tariffs."

The Jacksonville Times says: "We were shown by Mr. A. W. Sturgis, this week, several gold nuggets, weighing $25 to $50 each, and considerable finer gold, in all, about 200 ounces, taken from his placer mine at Steamboat City, just below the celebrated Fowler quartz ledge. Mr. Sturgis informs us that his company has taken out about 300 ounces this last summer, and that there is enough paying ground of the same kind for hundreds of men to work."

THE TERRITORIES.

The big bull of the Olympia Fair last week weighed 1,090 pounds.

Few postoffices have been established at Gray's River, Pacific county, Washington Territory. D. H. Jones is P. M. A new office is also established at Pine Grove, Alturas county, Idaho, over which M. L. Doom presides.

New Postmasters have been appointed in Idaho as follows: Nelson Davis, Atlanta, Alturas county; James R. Baxter, Loon Creek, Lemhi county, Edward Hammond, Pierce City, Shoshone county, and George L. Shoup, Salmon city, Lemhi county.

A Los Angeles dispatch says that Mr. Grover, who was shot by W. B. Hellings, a merchant of Arizona City, is dead. As it was supposed that Grover would recover, Helling was admitted to bail, and has left the country. The shooting occurred about ten days ago.

There seems to be a fixed determination of the Apaches to kill off everybody in the Sonoita and upper Santa Cruz valleys, and the officers at Camp Crittenden believe the Government fed Apaches at Camp Grant are the ones doing the work of death and destruction. All of them are armed with the best of guns and have fixed ammunition.

On the 6th instant a large band of Apaches coming from the Santa Rita mountains with a herd of stolen cattle, attacked a party of American and Mexican miners, some thirty or more miles south of Tucson, and robbed them of all their riding and pack animals, and probably killed two of the men, as they have not yet been heard from, although all but the missing two are known to have got away with their lives.

A correspondent writing from Waitsburg, W. T., to the Democrat says the farmers, many of whom are from "old Linn," raise 50 bushels of grain to the acre, and would not exchange the climate for any other they have ever found. Waitsburg boasts of several stores, shops, grist and planing mills, and excellent hotel accommodations. Churches are being built and general improvements are being made.

Washington County Farmers' Club.

HILLSBORO, Oct. 19, 1872.

At a meeting of farmers of Washington county, at the Fair Grounds, duly assembled by public call, October 16th, 1872, a farmers' club for the county was organized, with Wm. Wilson, President, and S. Patterson, Secretary.

The object of the organization was declared to be "mutual improvement in the ways and means for successful agriculture, to be obtained principally by stated discussion of agricultural topics."

It was resolved that, until further notice, the stated meetings of the club shall be at the Court House, at 1 P. M., on the last Saturday of each month, and that farmers of other counties, States and Territories, are invited to attend its meetings and take part in its deliberations; also that the principal topic for discussion shall be proposed and adopted at the meeting previous to the one for its consideration.

It was also resolved that the question for discussion at the first stated meeting shall be "Is it advisable for Washington county to give less attention to grain and more to stock, and if so, what kind of stock and how sustained?"

The Society sincerely requests farmers generally to join in its simple organization, and make it a special power for carrying our county to its highest development.

The Club will hold its first meeting on Saturday, the 26th instant.

J. S. GRIFFIN, Sec'y pro tem.

Crow Eating Extraordinary.

CORN, Oregon, Oct. 13, 1872

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

DEAR SIR: It is an exceedingly fortunate circumstance that our public hall here is not three stories high, or an occurrence which is recorded in the twentieth chapter of the Acts of the Apostles would have certainly been repeated last night. You well remember that St. Paul was delivering one of his famous sermons which lasted until midnight, when a young man named Eutychus fell asleep, and likewise fell out of the window from the third story. St. Paul, being the immediate cause of the accident, of course justice demanded that he should restore his life.

I do not mean any disparagement to St. Paul by mentioning Mr. Congressman Slater's name in the same paragraph, but while the latter named gentleman was eating-crow last night, I noticed so many of the audience "nodding assent" to every proposition, that from my inmost soul I was glad our hall was only one story high, for we had no miraculous power here to restore life accidentally destroyed.

During the last three hours and thirty minutes of the speech, the audience presented the completest picture of unconsciousness personified on record. Mr. Slater has an idea that to make a speech immortal, he must necessarily occupy eternity in delivering it. If, as is sometimes alleged, "time is money," then Mr. Slater puts enough change into one speech to liberally endow thirteen first-class colleges.

But Mr. Slater made a good speech last night, anyway, for no man of his standing would deliver the same speech in the same house to the same people, sixteen times in succession, unless it was a good one. Measuring this speech by this standard, it is one of the finest in the history of American oratory for I noticed several men last night repeating, half audibly, the speech with the speaker, as children at Sunday School sometimes learn to repeat the Lord's Prayer, so often have they heard it.

Less than a year ago, Mr. Slater delivered a speech here, which consisted entirely of a review of the Reconstruction Acts and the Kuklux Bill attempting to show that they were the most tyrannical measures ever fastened in the statute books of American legislation; that those who were instrumental in bringing them about (he included Horace Greeley by name) were unworthy the confidence of honest and patriotic men, and should no more be countenanced than Judas Iscariot after betraying the master, and such like, you know, as only a Democratic speaker can do.

But what did he do last night to prove that H. G. is fit to occupy a place just above the "vail invisible?" Why, he gave a complete history of the Reconstruction measures and the Ku Klux bill; the ruin, misery, and poverty which they entailed in the South ad infinitum!

In other words, the speech he made a year ago to prove that Horace Greeley and men of his kind should nevermore be entrusted with civil power, is now made to do service in proving that every patriotic man in the land must rally to the support of these very men. In order to remove the desolation and distress which he says have followed in the wake of the Ku Klux bill he advises us to support the man who says of this very bill:

"I, therefore, on every proper occasion, justified and advocated the Ku Klux Act, I hold it especially desirable for the South; and if it does not prove strong enough to effect its purpose, I hope it will be made stronger and stronger!"

This, Mr. Slater says, is the way to remedy the evils of the Ku Klux bill!

He says the way to change the features of the present Administration is to place in the Executive Chair a man who said of that Administration after more than two years of its development, "Grant and his policy deserve the highest credit."

Is it any wonder that after his speech had terminated, many Democrats openly said that they were yet unconvinced of Horace Greeley's angelic qualities. He says Democrats need not vote for Mr. Greeley merely because he is a Republican, but because he has strength, and then added that if he had any peculiar strength it was solely because he is a Republican. In other words, they must not vote for him because he is a Republican, but because of that supposed strength which results solely from his Republicanism! Reduced still further, they must not vote for him on account of his Republicanism, but because of his Republicanism! It was with such stuff as this that Mr. Slater endavored to draw the wool over our eyes, but it is rather thin. I mean the attempt was.

"Another item: In attempting to appear calm over the grand result of the Pennsylvania election, Mr. Slater said suppose defeat did stare him in the face, it could not change his reasons for supporting Mr. Greeley. Strange it shouldn't, if, as he said, the reason a Democrat was not nominated at Baltimore, was that they knew they couldn't elect one. Then if the knowledge of defeat will cause him to abandon a Democrat, why should it not cause him to abandon H. G.? I think the October elections furnish a very good reason for him to abandon Greeley and come out for Grant, as success is what he is after, whether there is any Democracy in it or not.

But let us not dwell on a subject longer than its importance will warrant. Mr. Slater is a man we all like, personally, and we must accord to him a feeling of sympathy, owing to the present melancholy application of the party lash.

If we ever want to bore an artesian well through the granite bed-rock of the Blue Mountains, we know where to apply for a suitable auger.

T. T. G.

A VERY HARD CASE, SURELY.—In one of his recent speeches in Pennsylvania, Mr. Greeley told a very affecting story illustrating the need of reconciliation with the South. "I had," said he, "a friend who went down to South Carolina, spent some time there, and came back. He is a very zealous Republican, and he said he had seen many things he did not like. He said: 'I saw a man there, who, when secession began, was living in Paris on an allowance, from his father at $25,000 a year. He is now a clerk to a negro Assessor in Charleston at two dollars per day, and mighty glad to get it.' Now such things do take place, and I do think that the people have suffered a great deal. I think it is time that a generous hand was outstretched to aid them." This pathetic tale has excited the Springfield (Mass.) Union and it says "This is perfectly dreadful, all must admit. If it does not show the need of reconciliation, what does it show? To add to the aggravating circumstances of the poor clerk, the negro he now works for was perhaps one of the insolent slaves on whom the father was wont to rely for the production of his princely income that enabled him to allow his son $25,000 a year to spend in riotous living in Paris. The case is a peculiarly hard one. If this fallen representative of a proud family only lived North it would be easy for Mr. Greeley to say to him sweetly 'Go West, young man, go West.' As it is, the only remedy for his case is reconciliation. Therefore, let us be reconciled."

A little four year old of Bristol went to Providence the other day, and in the depot was accosted by a Quaker lady, who asked: "How old art thou, little girl?" She looked up in the face of the Quakeress, and replied, "I'm not art thou—I'm little Jennie."

The Democratic Nominee.

On Wednesday's stage Judge McFadden arrived at this place. Lest some should not know why we make more special mention of this fact than we generally do on the arrival of any passenger by stage, we will explain that the Judge is a candidate for Congress, on the Democratic Liberal Republican ticket. The Convention that put his name before the people was called a Democratic Convention, but endorsed Greeley and the Liberal Republican platforms of Cincinnati and Baltimore. In this Convention ten of the counties in the Territory were not represented at all, and of the remaining counties about one-half were represented by "proxies." The tardiness of the Democracy to respond to the call of the party, as evinced in the composition of this Convention would not indicate that they wish to show their "faith by their works." Yet, such as this Convention was, Judge McFadden is its nominee. He is nominated by a Democratic Convention that endorsed a Liberal Republican platform, and a Liberal Republican candidate for President. Yet the Judge virtually repudiates all the doings of the Convention that nominated him, except the nomination, and says he is "neither a Greeley man, nor a Grant man." His honesty in this admission is in strange contrast with his insincerity in accepting the nomination of a Convention whose expressions in favor of Greeley he repudiates. On his arrival here he was received with about the same enthusiasm with which he was placed on the party altar for sacrifice by his admirers at the late Democratic Liberal Republican Convention. On the evening after he arrived here, the news of the Republican victories in Pennsylvania and other Atlantic States was received, and some of our citizens thought that a proper time to manifest a little political enthusiasm, so they engaged the band, borrowed some anvils, bought some powder, and attempted to make a "demonstration." After music by the band, and firing of anvils by the "little boys" Judge McFadden was called on for a speech—we presume to ratify the news from Pennsylvania and Indiana. His speech was one over which he had evidently spent much time in preparing, and took at least five minutes to deliver, but he entirely forgot to say anything about the election news. The next time he speaks we presume he will take the subject and show "large Democratic gains" from it and argue that the Greeley reaction is just about set in—that the darkest hour is just before day, and that the great tidal wave of public opinion that is to land Horace's boat high and dry in the White House will also bear his bark into the Halls of Congress. Unfortunately for the Judge, however, he failed to launch his boat until about ten years after the right "time in the tide of human events," and the result will be that he will on the 5th of November find himself on the "shoals" of defeat. His visit here has neither helped nor harmed his prospects—he will be beaten all the same as if he had remained at home. He is too crusty to be popular as a politician, yet his years and venerable appearance entitle him to our utmost respect as a man and a citizen. Having thus paid our respects to Judge McFadden, the would-be, but will not be, Delegate to Congress, we for the present, leave him and his friends to push his interests as best they may.

AN IMPORTANT INVENTION—INEXTINGUISHABLE LIGHT.—The great necessity for some marine signal light, which should be almost inextinguishable, has been the occasion of much taxing of the inventive powers among those who take a deep interest in such improvements. A self-lighting signal lamp, which is likely to be of great use, has been invented. Its peculiarities are that it is self-lighting, that its flame can neither be extinguished by water or any other means, and that it is incapable of setting fire to objects; while at the same time, its light is extremely brilliant and of long duration. The new lamp consists of a cylindrical vessel of tin, with a conical point, and provided below with a tube six inches in length. The vessel is to be filled entirely with fragments of phosphide of calcium, and the tube soldered up air tight, so that the preparation can be kept many years without change.

When the lamp is to be used the tip of the cone is to be cut off, and an opening made at the end of the narrow tube referred to, and the lamp inserted into a wooden float and thrown into the water. The water penetrates through the lower end of the tube, and comes into contact with the phosphide of calcium, and is decomposed with the formation of phosphuretted hydrogen gas, which is developed in great quantity, and which, escaping through the open tube of the cone, becomes ignited and burns in contact with the atmospheric air. An experiment was lately made with the signal light, in which the lamp was thrown overboard from the steamer, and drawn along behind by means of a string, and at a short distance from the stern. When the lamp touched the water a brilliant flame shot out immediately from the opening; although it was continually dragged under water by the motion of the vessel, the light remained unextinguished, even after the lamp was submerged. After a time the string was cut, and the lamp allowed to float behind, and it was visible for a long distance from the light disseminated around it.

WHY THEY MISSED IT.—The time has gone by when a business man would sit quietly in his store and expect patronage without any effort of his own. The war, whatever else it may have done, or not done, certainly produced a radical change in our methods of conducting commercial affairs, until it is now no longer possible to transact a paying business except of the most limited kind, without the aid, agency, and co-operation of the newspaper.

Elegant buildings, superb fronts of iron and plate glass, and a good business position may be, and indeed are, great and attractive auxiliaries to the establishment of a satisfactory trade, but woe to the "penny wise" and pound foolish business man who thinks with his grandfather, that "a bird in the hand is worth two in the bush," and trusts to these alone.

A glaring instance of such a short-sighted policy is before us in a well-known firm of this city, who had to an unusual degree all the advantages here named, but who eschewed the aid of the Press, preferring to do business in the way and by the same means employed by its founder forty or fifty years ago. The consequence is that this establishment has had to "shut up," and thus at length terminated the career of one of the oldest firms in Pittsburg, who, notwithstanding their age, respectability and influence, passively declined to compete with modern energy, and lapsed at length into silence.—Pittsburg Dispatch

The Daily Oregonian.

MONDAY MORNING OCTOBER 21, 1872.

The Man that Stole the Ax

Referring to our republication of an article from the Buffalo Commercial Advertiser on freight charges in the East by contrast with which the exorbitant tariff upon Wallamet valley freight looks so frightfully large, the Bulletin says:

The OREGONIAN was a little while ago at the railroad companies and applied hard charges on the Columbia monopoly * * * The Columbia monopoly retards the growth of Eastern Oregon and the country beyond the Cascades, impoverishes that region, strikes down industry and paralyzes the energies of the people. What of it? The OREGONIAN still prosecutes its malignant crusade against the railroad companies and it has only honeyed words and approbation to bestow upon the Columbia monopoly.

This is a specimen of the manner in which the Bulletin is conducted. It appears to have no more regard for truth than if there were no moral difference between truth and falsehood. We have never applauded or "championed," or had a "honeyed word of approbation, or any other word for the "Columbia Monopoly"—by which name we suppose the Oregon Steam Navigation Company is intended. Our readers have not seen a word in the OREGONIAN for the "Columbia Monopoly" but they have seen the question of freights discussed from the standpoint of its bearings upon the interests of the whole people of the State and of every section thereof.

The Bulletin's position is illustrated by the old story of Lorenzo Dow's finding out the thief who had stolen his parishioner's ax. Dow took with him into the pulpit a stone as large as his fist, and when the congregation was seated, he rose up and said he felt it to be his duty to kill with that stone the man who stole the ax, at the same time going through the motion of throwing the stone. The guilty man dodged, and his discovery was complete. So when we threw the fact of enormous freight charges into the crowd of transporters, Mr Holladay dodged. He may not be the only guilty party, but it is evident that the consciousness that he exactly answers the description was the cause of his dodging so quickly, when we threw at the man who stole the ax.

If the Columbia monopoly is oppressing the people just half as sorely as Mr Holladay's transportation lines are, we wish him every possible success in his specific attack upon it, for as we said last week:

With increased facilities we must have a corresponding reduction in our freights. Unless we have this, our State cannot make rapid advancement. In other words, if our farmers must pay now the same rate of freight that they did when we only had the river for an outlet and ox teams to compete with it, what advantage is our railroads? We paid freights to transportation lines and to ox teams that distributed the money within our midst. Now if we pay the same freight, and the money must go abroad to pay interest on our railroad bonds, what is to be the advantage to the State? Low freights are not only for the advantage of the producer, the people generally and to the State, but of railroad and other transportation companies themselves.

More About Freight

On the 13th instant we republished from the Buffalo Commercial Advertiser, a statement of the freight charges from Chicago and Buffalo to Albany, New York. We again commend that statement to the careful consideration of our readers. The charges on freights in the Wallamet valley are about seven times as high in proportion to distance, as those from Chicago to Albany. This is an alarming state of facts. It is doubtless true that freights over our shorter lines of transportation should be relatively higher than on the long lines at the East, but there is no sufficient reason in the fact of shorter routes for an excess of six hundred per cent over Eastern tariffs. That our freights could be carried at lower rates is proved by the fact that before the owner of the railways through the valley became the owner also of the line of boats on the Wallamet river, the cost of moving freight from Albany and putting it on board ship at Portland, including all the handling and warehouse charges, was one dollar and thirty five cents less on the ton than it was by river afterwards. With two railways and the river, the producer is not so well off in the matter of freights as when he had the river alone. And this notwithstanding the fact that at the old charges the transportation on the river was said to be one of the best paying investments of capital in the country.

The paramount wants of the country at this time are, increase of population and cheap transportation for our produce. Situated as Oregon is, without any home market and compelled to depend rather upon producing than manufacturing for her commercial position and internal prosperity, it is idle for her people to hope for the development which her natural resources would seem to promise so long as the transportation charges are out of all proportion to the price of produce. It is of no particular advantage to our farmers to have a soil that is extremely productive and a climate in which a failure of crops is never known, if they must pay the transportation companies so much for carrying their produce to the market, as to leave no margin for themselves.

The XLIII Congress

The elections on the 8th inst render it reasonably certain that the next Congress—the Forty third—will be Republican in the House of Representatives by a majority—close upon two-thirds of the whole House—of two hundred and ninety two members. Pennsylvania has elected nearly three fourths Republican members out of her enlarged representation of twenty nine members. Indiana will send eight, if not nine, Republican members out of thirteen and Ohio has probably elected fifteen Republican out of twenty members. New York is good for twenty two (possibly twenty four) Republican out of thirty three members in November and Iowa and Michigan will send full Republican delegations of nine members each at the same time.

The new apportionment under the census of 1870 makes a House for the next ten years, of 292 as against 243 in the present House. The new Congress, we believe, will be divided in the proportion of 191 Republican to 101 Opposition members as follows:

States	Republican	States	Opposition
New England	[illegible]	New England	1
Middle	[illegible]	Middle	[illegible]
South Western	[illegible]	South Western	[illegible]
Western	[illegible]	Western	1
Pacific	[illegible]	Pacific	1
Southern	3	Southern	[illegible]
Total	191	Total	101

From results already known the above calculation is more likely to be exceeded than to fall short when all the Congressional elections are held.

The arrest of the Chief of Police of Jersey City and one of his detectives upon indictments for being concerned in the great bank robbery lately perpetrated in that city seems to have created a considerable sensation. The bail of the Chief was fixed at $10 000 and that of his detective at $7 000. The detective gave bail as soon as brought in to court and the Chief the next morning.

The Greeley Press on the Elections.

Here are the comments of some of the Greeley papers in the East issued just after the elections of October 8th. They tell the story of the Greeleyites despair. The last wail of a lost cause comes up in the shape of charges of fraud and corruption.

The Washington Patriot of the 9th says:

The returns from Pennsylvania indicate that our worst fears were more than justified.

The Tribune of the 10th says:

We have no desire to underrate the gravity of the result. We have been counted out of Pennsylvania which we should have carried. We could only have dispensed with the vote in the Electoral College, but the moral effect of the loss is depressing to a greater extent than the number of electoral votes would indicate. The work is made harder for us in New York and harder for our brethren in all the States we mean to carry.

The New York Herald of the same date says:

We have before us the verdict of the people from the October elections in the great central States of Pennsylvania, Ohio and Indiana, and in summing up the results hardly a doubt can be entertained of the re-election of General Grant in November for another Presidential term. So far the local elections of the year have indicated no losses to him since 1868. New Hampshire, Connecticut, Oregon, North Carolina, Vermont and Maine and now Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana, Nebraska and South Carolina have each in its turn pronounced in favor of the administration while on the other hand only the State of Georgia has declared against.

The Presidential campaign in New York is said to be the most exciting one that has taken place since 1840. When Horace Greeley was nominated a quiet election was predicted, but a deep conviction has taken hold of the minds of thinking people throughout the State that if by any means he should be elected the result would be more calamitous to the country than would that of a straight out Democrat. Mr Greeley's erratic course in the past, his apparent want of any fixed and settled principles of political action and the astonishing development of the demagogue element in his nature, which this campaign has already produced have led many who at first regarded the contest with indifference, to conclude that the interests of the country demand that the misfortune of his election must not be allowed to fall upon the country by any possible combination of events. Hence, although his defeat is now generally regarded as a moral certainty, there is still a strong desire that the State of New York, with its thirty three votes in the electoral college may be saved to Grant.

The Pittsburgh Leader, an independent paper, on the next morning after the October elections, said:

The Republican majority in Pennsylvania is about 20 000, in Ohio about 20 000. Indiana doubtful, but probably Republican. Whatever else results from this, the death of Greeleyism is certain. Grant is as certain of re-election as that the sun will rise on the first Tuesday of November.

Ohio fell below the Leader's figures and Indiana failed to elect Browne. But the majority in Pennsylvania was 35 000 instead of 20 000 and Indiana gave a Republican majority for all the ticket except Governor, securing both branches of the Legislature and insuring the re-election of Morton or the choice of some other Republican to succeed him in the Senate. Truly, whatever else results from the October elections, "the death of Greeleyism is certain."

The Republicans of New York expect to carry the State for Grant and Wilson. It is now evident that the Republicans and Reformers will co-operate in the city, and it is by no means certain that the city itself will go for Greeley. But the Republicans claim that they can overcome by the vote of the rest of the State, a majority of fifty thousand in the city. The city majority for Seymour in 1868 was a little over sixty thousand, and still the Democracy secured the Presidential Electors by only about ten thousand. It is impossible that the majority of the city for Greeley can be so great now, with the Democracy divided and discordant as it was for Seymour, when the party was led by the able and infamous chieftain of the old Tammany ring.

At the time the House reconsidered the vote by which Mr Simpson's Lock Bill was passed, the bill was in the possession of the Senate and had passed to its third reading in that body. The reconsideration by the House under these circumstances could have no effect upon the validity of the bill. If the Senate should proceed to pass it, it would be a law notwithstanding the reconsideration by the House. The practice in Congress has been to request the return of a matter to the house desiring to reconsider. An instance of this occurred as lately as last May, when the Senate in order to reconsider a resolution which it had passed adopted a resolution requesting the House of Representatives to return the resolution.

The New York Herald has constructed a telegraph from New York city to Whitestone, Long Island, for the purpose of securing the earliest shipping intelligence.

COMPLIMENTARY.—The New Northwest thus speaks of the debate in the House of Representatives on Mr Simpson's Lock bill:

The gentleman from Benton, Mr Simpson, locked horns with the gentleman from Multnomah, Mr Caples who, assisted by the self styled "Champion" from Marion, Mr Patton, succeeded in arousing the righteous indignation of the aforesaid gentleman from Benton and for the space of three hours these Representatives fought each other with a zeal well worthy of the magnitude of the subject under consideration. Mr Speaker also handled the matter in an earnest manner, making a clear, logical and impartial speech, which did him great credit.

On behalf of the women of the State of Oregon in whose interest the gentleman from Benton labored with such zeal we, as an unrepresented class, directly concerned in keeping our noble Wallamet river forever free, take this opportunity to thank him cordially for standing by the people's interests.

The amount demanded by the present owners of the Locks may be and doubtless is exorbitant. But it is better to get the State in possession of them even at a sacrifice, than to prevent the present transportation monopoly of Oregon to seize the people's last loophole of escape from the grinding demands of an all powerful railroad corporation.

ROMANCE OF THE WAR.—One Col Washington living near Nashville, Tenn was rescued from a mob of drunken soldiers whom he had offended by Col Downey of Tiffin Ohio, to whose regiment the troops belonged. Downey has since died, leaving a widow and family in poverty. Washington also died recently, and in his will made a bequest to the widow and children of Downey to the value of $100 000. Sometimes it would seem as if reason had fled to brutish beasts, but gratitude has still a home in the human breast as is evinced by this generous deed.

FROM THE CAPITAL

[FROM OUR REGULAR CORRESPONDENT]

SALEM, Oct 20th, 1872.

The Sabbath has dawned gloriously. Church bells are chiming solemnly, but their clamor of pleadings are little heeded by the excited crowds that move hurriedly along our streets or gather in knots about the corners and unfrequented byways to talk over the scenes of last night. Here is a group of the defeated ones. You may know from the averted gaze and low whispered words that they have been beaten. You may guess from the stern tone and determination that the morrow will find them at their posts ready to do battle again in that grandest of all causes, the rights of the people. Yesterday was by far the most exciting of all the forty days. A motion—entered by Mr Stott—to reconsider the vote whereby H B 77—the Locks Bill—passed sounded an alarm that we had hoped never to hear again. It gave warning of renewal of a strife which for bitterness and acrimony has never been equalled here, and which we had hoped was buried forever. The gentleman from Washington county made his motion yesterday morning. It went to its proper order on the calendar—propositions and motions—despite the zealous labors of the "Champion from Marion" to bring it directly to a vote. From this time to the close of the afternoon session all was anxiety and suspense. Some prayed for the night to hasten, others unaccustomed to prayer cursed the tardy hours that slowly carried them nearer and nearer to defeat. The night came at last.

At 7 o'clock

THE EVENING SESSION

began. When the gavel fell every inch of standing room in the Hall of the House was occupied. The galleries were overcrowded, aisles and passage ways surcharged with a dense mass of humanity, indicated the general interest felt by the people in the issue of this night's contest. The roll call showed Messrs. Cranor and Cooper absent. As these gentlemen were pronounced friends of the Bill, their absence was sorely felt by the minority. The House ordered a "call of the House," but suspended it as soon as it was found that all the opponents of the bill were present.

Thus the battle began. The issue was perfectly understood. The People vs The Holladay Ring. There was no mistaking it. Therefore all eyes were turned to the leaders of the respective factions, Patton, of Marion, and Simpson, of Benton. Mr Patton moved that the motion of Mr Stott to reconsider the vote by which the Lock Bill passed, be now taken from the table. Question after question in the shape of dilatory motions were interposed by Mr Simpson, who fought gallantly every step of the ground up to the final vote. Nothing escaped his vigilant eye. A call of the House was demanded frequently by this Representative who now found himself in a minority caused by the accession to the ranks of the opposition of Messrs Collier and Stott of Washington county.

A DESPERATE FIGHT

A motion to go into Joint Convention was defeated by the same vote of ayes 22, noes 25. The lobby frowned on the noes, the noes frowned back on the lobby, and so they twain frowned most fiercely. We know not what dire disaster might have followed upon this conflict, had not the gentleman from Marion moved the previous question. Scarcely had the last syllable died upon his lips, ere the omnipotent motion to adjourn was shouted by some excited member of the opposition. This was defeated, but close upon its heels came sundry other dilatory motions upon which the ayes and noes were invariably demanded. The Pecksniffian features of the gentleman from Multnomah, who has been characterized by the Bulletin as the "foremost man in the State," turned scarlet, then livid, then to a delicate yellow ochre, such as is often seen when the sunset burnishes the landscape with gorgeous colors. In fact his face was a solar spectrum exhibiting in rich contrast all the colors known to art. That countenance was a study for Nast or Eytinge. Under the strong gaslight it assumed such ghostly attributes, that it became absolutely awful. He might have been taken for a Roman Senator as he sat enshrouded in a standing collar of gigantic dimensions and immaculate whiteness; we say he might have been taken for such.

A VICTORY FOR THE AUTOCRAT

The previous question was ordered. After the vote, the same routine of dilatory motions was interposed but in vain. The main question was put, and the bill was lost by a vote of ayes 22, noes 25. The vote was taken amid profound silence, and its result was received with varied feelings.

The powerful Railroad Lobby that has encompassed the House for lo! these many weeks wanted to cheer, but the speaker quickly suppressed all tumult.

The motion to reconsider was made by Mr Patton in the vain hope that the customary proceeding of indefinitely postponing the same would place this measure beyond the reach of the people. The House adjourned and on Monday that gentleman's motion will be reconsidered. Mr Patton is by all odds the best man of the opposition. He is the tactician of that party, notwithstanding the dictum of the Bulletin. But we will defer further remarks on this measure until the motion of Mr Patton is decided.

CITY.

PLEASURES OF DROWNING.—Drowning would no doubt become a favorite method of suicide if the sensations experienced by watery strangulation were only known. Death from poisonous drugs, by stabbing, shooting or other means usually employed to shuffle off this mortal coil is attended with more or less intense physical suffering, especially, if the drug be not properly administered or the weapons aimed with a deadly precision. Few persons regard it as probable that they will die by drowning, except those, of course, whose avocations lead them to be constantly about water. Death in any form is not a pleasant theme on which to dwell, and drowning especially seems to be invested with peculiar horrors to the human family. If the reports are authentic given by those who have been rescued from watery graves about the pleasurable sensations they have experienced, persons would not regard death by drowning with such feelings of terror, while suicides would instinctively seek the calm bosom of the river as the Lethe for the ills and woes of life. Nevertheless many persons are curious to know the mental condition of those who have undergone the "strangulating process" and what are the sensations and impressions of the mind after consciousness elapses its action. We have abundant testimony from accounts of those who have experienced strangulation by water to the point of insensibility, rescued by thoughtless persons, not being under the impression that they were performing a most gracious act of humanity, thus robbing the King of Terrors, and dooming the rescued victim to undergo a second death at some later period. From such testimony it appears to be well established that drowning is really a pleasant method of crossing to the untried mysteries of the future state. The drowning man is believed to hear exquisite music, and to perceive with the mental vision, after the natural eyes have been shut, fields of extraordinary greenness and beauty, and flowers of gorgeous, ravishing hues. It is likewise true, that persons while in that condition bordering the confines of life and death generally retain with a wonderful power of memory, a clear and distinct recollection of the many deeds done in the body. By a sort of mental telegraphy, every act of one's existence flashes through the mind, with a painful or pleasurable emotion, as such acts may have been good or bad. Even were this a necessary part of the process of drowning, it would not render death through that agency unpleasant, except to those whose lives have not been of irreproachable character.

If this is strictly true, the prospect of "passing in his checks" by watery strangulation, should certainly present terrible consequences to the Honest Horace, were he morally certain that in the hour of death he would remember all his eccentric experiments in agriculture and in politics, and would see ghostly visions of tobacco fields sown with Scotch snuff, or be compelled to rehearse his innumerable arguments on all sides of everything—the abnormal quickening of memory, said to sometimes occur to the drowning man, would have no terrors for better agriculturists and less versatile politicians, and would not in the least detract from the pleasant sensations caused by the free panorama of select landscapes, of which mention has just been made.

The same could be said of many members of the "Substratum Society" in Portland—a social class which furnishes the greatest number of self destructionists. Such persons as were possessed of an inclination to destroy that which they could not restore, would be more likely restrained from such an act by the prospect of living over in the space of a few seconds, a long life of infamy and crime. The terrors and unavailing pangs of remorse which would follow such a birdseye view of one's life, would effectually counteract the pleasurable emotions experienced by the drowning process.

PITIABLE SIGHT.—Habitual intoxication is a vice revolting enough when indulged in by men only. When a woman becomes so degraded as to wallow in the gutter, in a beastly state of drunkenness, the vice then seems clothed in the most odious and repulsive colors. There is no doubt much drinking carried on in demi monde circles, but we have, fortunately for the good of society and the reputation of the city, but a few cases of confirmed female drunkards. Last evening the officers captured a very respectable looking young woman wandering about the streets in a maudlin state of inebriety. She was taken to the jail and confined in a dark cell for the night. The woman came here but a short time ago, but of late frequently been drunk. She made a desperate resistance, and lost, as a consequence, several chignons, and waterfalls without number. These interesting specimens of female toggery can be inspected at the Police Court by those who may be curious enough to look at them. Judge Denny will doubtless impose a condign fine this morning for such shameless and unwomanly conduct on the part of this degraded female. We suppress names.

DISTRICT CONFERENCE.—The M. E. District Conference for this District, will convene at East Portland next Wednesday morning, for the transaction of business. Order of exercises will be as follows: Wednesday 23d, at 9 A. M., meeting for prayer and devotion; 10 A. M., regular organization; 11 A. M., District Stewards meet to estimate and apportion the claims of the Bishop and Presiding Elder; 2 P. M., Sunday School meeting—themes: 1. Discontinuance of Sunday Schools during the winter; 2. The principal difficulties and peculiar demands of country Sunday Schools; 3. The Sabbath School and prayer; 4. Who shall teach, and the preparation necessary therefor; 5. How to train and develop converted children; 6 P. M., Missionary and Church Extension service—Brief addresses by a number of [illegible]. Thursday, 9 A. M., reports and business; 2 P. M., the Ministry in its relations to society—vocal culture; 7 P. M., Experience meeting.

PIPE SEWER.—An ordinance was passed by the Common Council, some time ago, providing for construction of Nicolson pavement on Stark street, from Front to the east line of Second, and the laying of a brick or pipe sewer. The matter has been in the hands of the Committee on Streets and Public Property for some weeks, and the estimates of the cost of the proposed improvement all made out. It has been determined by the owners of property abutting on the street to lay a sewer along the street, as provided by the ordinance, made of clay. An abundance of this material—clay—is met with in the vicinity of Buena Vista, in Polk county. An order has been sent to parties there for the required amount of pipe, which will be sent to this city as soon as finished. As the sewer will be laid first, work on the street will be delayed until that part of the work is completed.

DISORDERLY.—A man named Daly—no old offender, by the way—was arrested last evening for disorderly conduct. He was partially intoxicated and created such a din that the neighbors entered complaint against him. Two officers repaired to the house on Tenth street—where they found Daly raising "particular thunder." He was arrested, but swore that to accompany the officers, he wouldn't. Finding himself overpowered, he went reluctantly to jail. The companion of his bosom and a numerous offspring followed his unwilling footsteps to jail, making the welkin fairly reverberate while on the way with their discordant shouts. Verily such is life. The case will be adjusted by Judge Denny this morning.

BROUGHT OVER.—The locomotive James B. Stephens, the first locomotive which awoke the slumbering echoes of our hills and valleys with its shrill whistle, will soon be able to take the road again. This locomotive was badly damaged by the recent collision near Roseburg. She has been at the car shops for the last month, undergoing repairs. Next Friday she will make the trial trip, and in a few days after be transferred to the west side road.

BUILDING PERMITS.—Owing to the lateness of the season, but few building permits are asked from the Auditor's office. As but little street improvements are in progress very few permits are issued for that class of work for a similar reason. The principal rush of the season is past, followed by a gradual suspension of building activities. A great impetus will be imparted to the march of improvement next spring.

BROKE DOWN.—A runaway took place yesterday out on the Canyon road resulting in a general smash up. The driver was observed coming into the city a few hours later driving a team to which was attached the fraction of a vehicle, the fractional portion being laid in the bottom of the buggy. Nothing was hurt but the vehicle, for which, we opine, some one will have a round price to pay.

OVERLAND.—Wilson's circus gave a performance last Friday evening at McMinnville to a good house. The company will exhibit this evening at Dallas and then move on southward visiting all towns of the interior of any importance.

TEARING UP.—For several days past, workmen have been engaged in tearing up the track along the East Side road, where the trains formerly ran between the residence of James B. Stephens and the car shops. The company are to have the rails and ties removed by the first of the month. The rails, fish bars and spikes—will be used along the road at points where repairs are, or may be necessary.

GOOD CONDITION.—Considering the fact that winter is approaching and persons are laying in supplies of fuel and the merchants stocks of goods the side walks are in a remarkably clean condition. Every few days however, the Street Commissioner is called upon to serve notices on parties who disregard the provisions of the ordinance. Such notices invariably meet with prompt attention.

AGROUND.—The Dixie Thompson took the bark Jack Dee in tow yesterday. She was to have been taken below the St Helens bar but missing the channel at Swan Island, she ran aground, and the steamer not being able to pull her clear, was compelled to abandon the vessel and return to the wharf. The Jack Dee will probably be able to get off to day, by taking advantage of the tide.

FINGER CRUSHED.—A young man employed as a brakeman on the Oregon and California Railroad had the forefinger of the right hand badly crushed last Friday evening. He was coupling cars at Oregon City, when his finger was caught between the iron draw bolts and nearly mashed off. The wounded hand was dressed, and the young man is now in the hospital.

ON THE WAY.—Both the barks Barracouta, Capt Godard, and the Netterton, Capt Consentine, are on the way from Liverpool to this port. The Barracouta sailed on the 2d of last August, and the Netterton on the 31st of the same month. We are unable to state whether their cargoes are railroad iron or assorted.

PUBLIC SPEAKING.—Hon John H Mitchell, Senator elect will address the citizens of Portland on the national issues of the day, on Friday November 1st. Hon W. D Hare, Republican candidate for Presidential Elector, will address the people of this city, on Saturday, November 2d.

MONTGOMERY CASTLE.—The splendid first class iron ship, Montgomery Castle, which came to this port nearly two years ago, is on her way from Liverpool to San Francisco, with a large assorted cargo. The vessel sailed for her destination on the 21st of last August.

SENTENCED.—James McKenna, who was arrested by the Police of this city on a requisition of the Governor of California and taken to San Francisco to be tried for arson, has been convicted and sentenced to the Penitentiary for three years.

SCHOOL HOLIDAY.—The pupils of Miss Withers' select school were offered a holiday last Thursday. The school picnic was held on Robinson's Hill. The day was lovely and the little people had a most happy time.

For all kinds of upholstery work, window shades, curtains, baskets, brackets, etc., call at Paul Richter's. Work promptly attended to.

AMUSEMENTS.

John McCullough is again playing at San Francisco. "Richard Third" was on the boards last week.

Miss Mehlig is now giving a series of instrumental concerts at Chicago, assisted by some of the leading musicians of that city.

At Oro Fino Theater this evening, the thrilling drama of the "Avenger" will be rendered for the last time. In this connection we desire to urge the fact on the consideration of the public, that unless this place of amusement is liberally patronized, the theatrical enterprise must ultimately end in a ruinous failure. During the past week but a meager support has been extended the management. This can be accounted for in a great degree by the circus, fairs, and counter attractions. Mr. Waldron is expending money liberally, and doing everything in his power to sustain a theater, but all his efforts will prove of no avail unless the public will encourage him by a generous patronage. Portland can not afford to be without a place of amusement. This result cannot be compassed without the assistance and hearty cooperation of the public. It requires money to maintain a theatrical company, and unless the people are disposed to lend a helping hand in the matter, the theater will be compelled to close, and the present company seek other places where their efforts will meet with appreciation and remuneration. Every dollar paid to the management is not lost. It is spent in the city, and all classes derive the the full measure of the benefit resulting from its circulation. The public themselves are to settle the question as to whether we can support a legitimate place of amusement or not. This is plain practical talk, and it would be well for our citizens to reflect on the subject.

PERSONAL.

H W Scott, Esq, Hons J N Dolph and David Powell are now in the city.

William A Holbrook, Engrossing Clerk for the Senate, of the Oregon Legislature, is reported to be lying dangerously ill at the residence of his mother.

Captains Metzger and Stothard, popular officers among travelers between this city and San Francisco, are commanding the steamers California and Pacific, which ply between San Francisco and California ports.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

The advertisement of Messrs Rotschild & Ehrenpfort, exclusive wholesale dealers in all kinds of candies, will be found in another column.

We refer our business men to the announcement in the advertizing columns of the Firemen's Fund Fire and Marine Insurance Co of San Francisco. A branch agency has been established in this city, and Mr Geo. F Grant, formerly with the Pacific Insurance Co, is the manager. The Company has an excellent record.

A Jersey paper tells a very interesting story of a little boy in that State. He was climbing an apple tree, and when upon the topmost limb he slipped and fell to the ground. He was picked up and carried to the house in an insensible condition. After watching by his bedside through many weary hours, his mother perceived signs of returning consciousness. Leaning over him she asked if there was anything she could do for him, now that he began to feel better. Should she bathe his forehead, or change his pillow or fan him? Was there anything he wanted? Opening his eyes languidly, and looking at her the little sufferer said: "Yes. I want a pair of pants with a pocket behind." He got them.

A singular law has just been declared by the Japanese Government to the effect that no land holder in the empire shall, under pain of death, sell or mortgage real estate to a foreigner. The reason, probably, is to keep out the outside barbarians from gaining a foothold on Japanese territory.

Six thousand novels have been published in France this year, up to the 1st of August.

Very little time remains for you to decide whether you are going to vote for Grant or Greeley. This however, need not disturb your mind in the least, as you will certainly decide the moment you gaze upon that great [illegible] fall and winter goods lately [illegible] at [illegible] Roberts [illegible] Will be [illegible] to examine the latest styles [illegible]

The Loan Bill, Water Works Bill, [illegible] Bill and other bills are attracting general attention throughout the State. You can do no better than buy a bill of goods at J. O N [illegible] Co's. Their fall and winter goods are ready for inspection. An excellent stock. The prices are moderate. [illegible] The place is 93 First street.

DO NOT NEGLECT A COLD.—Thousands have been carried to early and unnecessary graves by not resorting to some sure and reliable means of cure. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry is, and has been for nearly half a century's standing, [illegible] respects the best for coughs, colds, bronchitis, whooping cough, etc.

SPOTTED LIFE DENTURES.—The teeth soon become speckled if every defilement is not removed from them every twenty four hours. To do this effectually there is nothing like Sozodont. It literally renders the enamel impervious and indestructible.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

Business is quite brisk.

The hills are golden hued.

The moon is on the wane.

Cool north wind yesterday.

Only fifteen days till election time.

Three more street cars will soon arrive.

Wanted—men to vote the Greeley ticket.

These nights and mornings remind one of winter.

The cars will be running to Roseburg in a few days.

Lots can't be had on the election—among the supporters of Greeley.

Improvement of the channel of the upper Columbia will shortly commence.

Timbers are being raised at the new custom house on which will be placed the roof.

The mania for swimming has abated among the city boys—weather is too bracing for that kind of sport.

The Secretary of the Treasury is said to have decided that imported chignons are liable to extra "duty."

There will be a special meeting of the Board of Delegates of the Portland Fire Department Tuesday evening.

Thirty years ago the place where Portland now stands was a wilderness; now it is a city of 1[illegible],000 inhabitants.

The steamer Onconta arrived yesterday from Monticello, to which point she took a drove of cattle Saturday.

The "Libs" feel very bad, but the "Dems" are used to it. There has been several "Rep" victories lately.

A strap gambist comes to grief. He attempts to depart on the steamer, leaving a board bill unliquidated. The plan didn't work.

J Quinn has sold his seal to the veteran circus manager, John Wilson, who proposes to teach it how to perform on the organ and piano(?)

The new locomotive Eugene, now receiving the finishing touches at the car shops will be ready to report for active service in the course of a few days.

The hum of the saw at the mills in the north end of the city is heard late during the night, indicating that considerable work is being done there.

A cotemporary proposes this conundrum, "Should Oro Fino Theater be patronized?" Our public should all answer this by attending that favorite place of amusement.

A juvenile, while engaged in angling off one of the city wharves yesterday, got a splendid bite (as he thought), and after a tremendous effort, landed a monster—boot, filled with blue clay, and supposed to have been worn by Joe Meek, "in the days of '49."

About this time, according to the Chinese almanac, look out for fire crackers, bombs and all manner of detonating abominations. The devil is said to be lurking among them, and they are going to make him skedaddle through the aid of these sulphurous agents.

EPICUREANS will find at Stalls Nos 10 and 11, Central Market, a very choice lot of game, fish and poultry. Quinn, who continues to dispense these luxuries at the Union Market, Washington street presides over these Stalls, and that is all that need be said to induce every one to call.

The old saying is: "What everybody says must be true," and every one says that Beck & Waldman have the largest and best selected stock of the latest styles and patterns in gentlemen's Clothing and Furnishing Goods in the city of Portland. They have the largest variety of Boy's, Youth's, and Children's Suits, all which will be sold according to the times. Please call and satisfy yourself that we will not be undersold by anyone.

Undeveloped Vigor

The feeble and debilitated [illegible] fancy they are in a more hopeless condition than they really are. The resources of nature are not easily exhausted. Even when strength and appetite fail, when the eyes are heavy and lustreless, the complexion pallid, the nerves tremulous, the body attenuated and the mind depressed, there is generally a reserve of latent power which such [illegible] and such palpable evidences of weakness [illegible] of treatment resorted to by physicians to this [illegible] development of the latent [illegible] this store of slumbering vitality, but the surest and judicious [illegible] mighty safe and reliable means of awakening the dormant vigor of the system is a course of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. Electricity, shower baths, the douche, fresh sea bathing, etc. may be well enough in their way as auxiliaries but they do not reach the source of the [illegible]. All physical debility proceeds [illegible] or from a derangement of the functions of the assimilating or secretive and [illegible] organs or from a sluggish constitution. In [illegible] case and the [illegible] causes whereby the [illegible] the Bitters will invariably produce an [illegible] and salutary change in the condition of the patient, and eventually effect a complete cure. None of the dangerous alkaloids is too often a constituent of tonics can be [illegible] injurious under such circumstances and to give mercury is positively criminal. The direct effect of the great vegetable specific will be manifest in an improved appetite and a more cheerful frame of mind and a gradual return of strength, an increase of flesh, and a healthier complexion. Meanwhile however, the constitution [illegible] will have been recruited and renovated by the subtle elements of invigoration contained in the Bitters.

PLANTATION BITTERS!
S. T.—1860—X.

This wonderful vegetable restorative is the sheet-anchor of the feeble and debilitated. As a tonic and cordial for the aged and languid it has no equal among stomachics. As a remedy for the nervous weakness to which women are especially subject, it is superseding every other stimulant. In all climates, tropical, temperate or frigid, it acts as a specific in every species of disorder which undermines the bodily strength and breaks down the animal spirits.

MEXICAN MUSTANG LINIMENT; FOR MAN AND BEAST.

Probably few articles have ever had so extensive Sale, while none have been more universally beneficial than the MEXICAN MUSTANG LINIMENT. Children Adults Horses and Domestic Animals are always liable to accident and it is safe to say, that no family can pass a single season without some kind of an emollient being necessary. It becomes a matter of importance then to secure the best.

Over three hundred livery stables in the city of New York alone are using the MEXICAN MUSTANG LINIMENT, in all of which it gives unusual satisfaction.

CAUTION.—The genuine is wrapped in a fine Steel Plate engraving with "G. W. Westbrook Chemist," and Trade Mark, MEXICAN MUSTANG LINIMENT engraved across the face of each wrapper. The whole bears the proprietor's private United States Revenue Stamp, and not a common stamp as used by druggists.

Incidents from the Life of Peter Cartwright

EXPOSING AN IMPOSTOR

In Marietta was a nondescript preacher named A Sargent, with numerous followers He called himself a millennial messenger and professed to see visions and converse with angels One Sunday night at a Methodist camp meeting Sargent got some powder and lit a cigar, and then walked down to the bank of the river one hundred yards where stood a large stump He put his powder on the stump and touched it with his cigar The light of the powder was seen by many at the camp Sargent lay there, and when the people came he told them he had had a vision that God had come down in a flash of light Says Cartwright

I stepped up to him and asked him if an angel had appeared to him in that flash of light He said 'yes' I said Sargent did not that angel smell of brimstone? Why, he replied do you ask me that foolish question? Because I said if an angel had spoken to you at all he is from the lake that burneth with fire and brimstone, and raising my voice I added I smell sulphur now

I called to the people to see for themselves They saw and cursed Sargent for a vile impostor We were troubled no more with brimstone angels

A HORROR OF WHISKY DRINKING PREACHERS

Peter Cartwright had a horror of whisky and of whisky drinking preachers He says

"While settled in Christian county a person calling himself a Baptist preacher called to stay all night with me He was accompanied by his son I disposed of their horses as best I could, and they partook of our fare After supper they both stepped into another room and when they returned I smelled whisky very strongly Although those were not days of general temperance, I thought it bad a sign, but said nothing He declined to join in evening prayer In the morning, as soon as morning prayer was over, he again took out his bottle, and asked me to take a dram I declined On leaving, he said Perhaps, brother, you charge?

'Yes,' said I, "all whisky loving preachers, who will not pray with me, I charge '

WHO IS GENERAL JACKSON?

Cartwright, (though not a Radical Abolitionist, had very swelling views of the equality of mankind One day when he was preaching in Nashville, General Jackson entered the church Another preacher whispered a little loud, "General Jackson has come in—General Jackson has come in" Cartwright said audibly 'Who is General Jackson? If he don't get his soul converted God will damn him as quick as he would a Guinea negro '

The congregation, General Jackson and all smiled and laughed outright The resident preacher told Cartwright that General Jackson would chastise him The General, on the contrary, expressed himself highly pleased with his independence "A minister of Jesus Christ," said Jackson, "ought to love every body, and fear no mortal man "

A DISPUTE WITH A DOCTOR

Many other anecdotes could be told of this eccentric and talented man, and there is one too good to let pass He once had a dispute with a doctor relative to religion. The doctor said he wanted honest and unequivocal answer to a few questions

"Did you ever hear religion?"

"No"

"Did you ever smell religion?"

"No"

"Did you ever taste religion?"

"No"

"Did you ever feel religion?"

"Yes"

"Now then," said the doctor, with apparent triumph, "I have proved beyond a doubt, by four respectable witnesses, that religion is not seen, heard, smelled, or tasted, and but one solitary witness, feeling, has testified that it is an experimental fact The weight of evidence is overwhelming, and you must give up."

Cartwright asked, "Did you ever see pain?"

"No."

"Did you ever hear a pain?"

"No"

"Did you ever smell a pain?"

"No."

"Did you ever taste a pain?"

"No"

"Did you ever feel a pain?"

"Certainly I did, sir."

The doctor and his family were converted

BLAZING HIS WAY

Cartwright having been brought up in a log cabin, did not like climbing stairs, and when he took up his quarters in a hotel he preferred rooms on a lower floor He once went to Chicago and booked himself at the Tremont House The preacher was assigned to a room in the eighth or ninth story Soon after being shown to his room, Cartwright rang the bell. A waiter was promptly in attendance "I want an ax," said Cartwright The astonished servant said he would procure one Having obtained an ax, Cartwright asked the waiter to guide him down stairs. At the first turn in the stairs, Cartwright blazed his mark in the walnut baluster. The dumb-founded waiter asked him what he meant "I want to know my way back to my room again," said Cartwright The preacher was assigned to a room at a more rural distance from mother earth

Mr. Cartwright was first assigned to Pleasant Plains in 1853 In his old age he retained his faculties to an extraordinary degree, and his example has had no small effect in keeping up the old time spirit of Methodism.

ART IN JAPAN

In his entertaining "Seven Months' Run Up and Down and Around the World," in one of the chapters on Japan, Mr Brooks says

"What has really astounded me more, perhaps, than anything here, is art The little hands and arms of the Japanese seem to fit them for nice execution, but they would not make the pretty screens, or pictures, or inlay copper, or lacquer as they do, if taste did not accompany them. I have just seen a big boy, only thirteen years old, who is painting for foreigners Japanese costumes, and his execution is wonderful The paper-hangings of Japan are unrivaled I have seen nothing in the world, that I remember, which equals the famous fan-room of the Hamagoten in Yeddo We, doubtless, got all our ideas of beautifying paper from Japan The bronze work of this people is wonderful as well as their lacquer They put years of work often into a daimio's room When we of English descent were barbarians in art, these were all they are now We see bells and bronzes, and inlaid work hundreds of years old. The iron and steel-work of Japan, too is far in advance of many "civilized" nations The famous Damascus steel, the renowned Toledo blade, does not surpass if equal, the steel sword of the Japanese officers ! It may not bend as the Damascus blade, but it has a strength and tenacity beyond it The old armor of the Japanese knights is wonderful work for the age and time Their work in silk and satin is wonderful and also in crape. These people, turning people, too, who use only the old spinning-wheel and the reel of our grand mothers, who have no Lyons or Aubusson looms, turn out real works of art in embossed silks or satins. I tell the administrators of government here if they will only send out their artists to study and copy Lyons fashions or to imbue themselves with European task their silks and satins and crapes will command the markets of the world What they most want to please us now is the knowledge of our caprices, and fashions, and tastes From their long non intercourse with the world they have not advanced in all that, and it is hard to persuade them to do aught save what their great great grandfathers and mothers were brought up to do The (foreign) Curio street of Yokohama is a gallery of art I could spend days there if I had time to study them up A people who have their capacities can be taught to do anything, and the marvel is when did they learn it or who taught them Is not art inborn?

LIFE'S BRIGHTEST HOUR

Not long since I met a gentleman who is assessed for more than a million [illegible] was his [illegible] upon his brow and he stooped beneath his burden of wealth We were speaking of that period when we had realized the most perfect enjoyment or rather when we had found the happiest moment [illegible] until we [illegible] said the millionaire [illegible] was the happiest [illegible] At the age of one and twenty I had saved [illegible] I was [illegible] and my salary [illegible] only requiring that I should pay for my board At the age of twenty one I had secured a pretty cottage just outside the city I was able to pay two thirds of the value down and also to furnish it respectably I was married on Sunday—a Sunday in June at my father's house My wife had come to me poor in purse but rich in the wealth of her womanhood The Sabbath and the Sabbath night we passed beneath my father's roof and on Monday morning I was to work leaving my mother and sister to help in preparing my home On Monday evening when the labors of the day were done I went not to my parental shelter as in the past but to my own house—my own house The holy atmosphere of that hour seems to surround me even now in the memory I opened the door of my cottage and entered I laid my hat on the little stand in the hall and passed on to the kitchen—our kitchen and dining room were both one then I pushed open the room door and was—in heaven The table was against the wall The evening meal was ready—prepared by the hand of her who had come to be my helpmeet in deed as well as in name—and by the table with a throbbing expectant look upon her face, stood my wife I tried to speak and could not I could only clasp the waiting angel to my bosom thus showing to her the elastic burden of my heart The years have passed—long long years—and worldly wealth has flowed in upon me and I am honored and envied but as true as heaven, I would give it all—every dollar—for the joy of that June evening, long ago

A MORAL DISTINCTION

During a class meeting, held several years since by the Methodist brethren of a Southern village, Brother Jones went among the colored portion of the congregation Finding there an old man, notorious for his endeavor to serve God on the Sabbath and Satan the rest of week, he said

"Well Brother Dick, I am glad to see you here Haven't stole any turkeys since I saw you last Brother Dick?"

"No, no, Brudder Jones, no turkeys "

"Nor any chickens Brother Dick?"

"No, no, Brudder Jones, no chickens "

"Thank the Lord, Brother Dick! That's doing well, my brother!" said Brother Jones, leaving Brother Dick, who immediately relieved his over burdened conscience by saying to a near neighbor with an immense sigh of relief

"If he'd said ducks, he'd a had me !"

THE FORTRESS OF GIBRALTAR — Until you set foot on Gibraltar you can form no idea of its impregnability Very properly its real strength cannot be seen from a ship in the bay only when you land do you find that the sea wall bristles with heavy guns and groans beneath the piles of ball, only as you traverse its flank do you see how formidable breech-loaders peep from every available chink, and powerful mortars lurk behind every convenient embankment And not until you penetrate the body of the rock do you get any just notion of the marvelous piece of military engineering exhibited in its "galleries " There are tunnels excavated from the solid rock, but some thirty feet therefrom, and large enough to drive a carriage through They are in two tiers and comprise a total length of nearly three miles. At every thirty feet or so along them, spacious embrasures are outhewn, that terminate in commanding portholes which look to a spectator outside the rock like swallows nest-holes in a sand cliff

Average California Wheat in Liverpool to-day, 13s 6d; Club Wheat, 14s

The telegrams from Mr Simonton, published yesterday and the day before are at best but a lame excuse for the manner in which the people have been misled in regard to the subject of misquotations of wheat prices in Liverpool The rates given in the Mark Lane Express have not been for club wheat as indicated in the dispatches from Mr S above referred to, but have been for average California, as we believe, and in fact, some of our California exchanges who have reliable data on the subject, have demonstrated the fact pretty clearly that the public on this coast has been purposely misled by these reports. The matter as it now stands is not in much better shape. We are promised the prices here after both of California average and the club wheat, but what reliance can be placed in them will be more definitely known when quotations reach us by mail and either disprove or confirm the telegraphic reports Yesterday for the first time, club wheat is mentioned in the dispatches to the Associated Press This dispatch is to impart that Wheat in Liverpool is, "average California 13s 6d, Club 14s " Now, if upon examination of reliable commercial journals in England it should be found that Wheat is quoted at a higher rate than 13s 6d will the people on this coast be any less in the dark on the matter than before? The lame excuses given by Simonton only strengthen the position that the establishment of an agency in Liverpool is the only sure way of protection which remains for this country in the matter A speculating ring may (for they have the power) manage this matter in their own interests unless we take steps to circumvent their plans. We would call the attention of journalists on this coast to this matter, that the question may be agitated and that the movement may take some tangible shape

Our dispatches to day announce that the Alta's commercial estimates that if the shipments of Wheat from California do not increase over the past rate, only four fifths of the surplus crop can be moved before the 1st of July 1873 This estimate is somewhat discouraging to the producers of Wheat in our State as it seems that nearly all the vessels arriving on the Pacific coast are chartered previous to arrival in San Francisco and there are no indications that even as large a number of vessels can be had in the future as have been obtained in the past to load with wheat from our coast

Money is naturally stringent as the result of the cancellation of $40 000 000 of three per cent certificates and also because of the restriction on banking which compels the national banks to keep their 25 per cent reserve full at a time when money is needed to move the crops which are immense this season The stringency bears with special severity on the merchants who are unable to obtain their full line of discounts at the banks and whose paper is hard to sell—even the best in the street—under 12 per cent. The cliques "bulling" stocks have borrowed money on time by means of borrowed sterling and suffer less by the stringency than any other class The pinch with them will come when their sterling bills mature

The Chicago Journal of Commerce says

If there is no incurable disease fastening its hold upon our money system the money market will be easier in a month for all legitimate business But theories are very unreliable

By all fair means the banks should have warded off any stringency at this time. Take these for instance of which we have a weekly knowledge

NEW YORK BANK STATEMENT—JULY 20

Deposits	$24[illegible] [illegible] 100
Specie	20 571 810
Legal Tenders	[illegible] 566 000

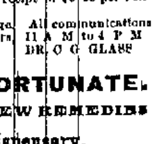
TO THE UNFORTUNATE.

NEW REMEDIES, NEW REMEDIES

Dr Gibbon's Dispensary,



623 KEARNEY STREET, NEAR COMMERCIAL, San Francisco Established in 1854 for the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases such as Gonorrhoea, Gleet, Stricture, Syphilis in all its forms, Seminal Weakness, Impotency, etc Skin Diseases (of years standing) and Ulcerated Legs successfully treated

DR. GIBBON has the pleasure of announcing that he has returned from visiting the principal Hospitals of Europe, and has resumed practice at his Dispensary 623 Kearny street, corner of Commercial, San Francisco, where his old patients and those requiring his services may find him.

The Doctor has spared neither time nor money in seeking out new remedies, and has returned with increased facilities for the alleviation of human suffering.

Horrible Diseases.

How many thousands of persons, both male and female are there who are suffering out a miserable existence from the effects of secret indulgences, or from virus absorbed into the system! Look at their pallid emaciated and disfigured faces and their broken down constitutions disqualifying them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life In this horrid situation thousands suffer until death closes the scene. Let parents, guardians, friends attend to those who are suffering with any of these horrible life destroying maladies—see that they are cared for and cured before it be too late. Send them immediately to DR GIBBON, a physician who has made private diseases his especial study for years, and who is certain to cure the most inveterate case, without mercury or any injurious drugs It is important to those who are afflicted, or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends, to be careful of the many pretended doctors who infest all cities, publishing their skill in curing all diseases in a few days [illegible] upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians from Europe and other places Be therefore careful and make strict inquiry, or you may fall into the hands of those charlatans

Seminal Weakness.

Seminal Emission the consequence of self-abuse. This solitary vice or depraved sexual indulgence is practiced by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent, producing with unerring certainty, the following train of morbid symptoms, unless combated by scientific medical measures, viz Sallow countenance dark spots under the eyes pain in the head ringing in the ears, noise like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots, uneasiness about the loins weakness of the limbs, confused vision, blunted intellect, loss of confidence, diffidence in approaching strangers, a dislike to form new acquaintances disposition to shun society loss of memory, hectic flushes, pimples and various eruptions about the face, furred tongue, fetid breath, coughs, consumption, night sweats, monomania and frequent insanity If relief be not obtained, should apply immediately, either in person or by letter and have a cure effected by his new and scientific mode of treating this disease, which never fails of effecting a quick and radical cure Dr G will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove satisfactorily to him that he was cured of this complaint by either of the San Francisco quacks.

MARRIED MEN.

Or those who contemplate marriage, who are suffering under any of these fearful maladies, should not forget the sacred responsibility resting upon them nor delay to obtain immediate relief.

DOCTOR GIBBON is responsible, and will give to each patient a written agreement, binding himself to effect a radical and permanent cure, or make no charge.

CURED AT HOME.

Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME, by addressing a letter to Dr Gibbon, stating case, symptoms, length of time the disease has continued, and have medicines promptly forwarded, free from damage and curiosity, to any part of the country, with full and plain directions By inclosing Ten Dollars coin, in registered letter through the Postoffice or through Wells, Fargo & Co., a package of medicine will be forwarded to any part of the Union

All communications strictly confidential.

Caution to the Unfortunate.

Beware of the San Francisco quacks and pretenders who, with bogus sworn to certificates, dupe the unwary Some of the self styled doctors, whose names are to be found in the daily and weekly newspapers of San Francisco and other places, are tradesmen and became too lazy too work at their trades Some are tinsmiths, shoemakers, newspaper carriers, intelligence office keepers, etc. The only way to avoid imposition is to make inquiry—it will cost you nothing, and may save you many regrets. As advertising physicians in eight cases out of ten are bogus, there is no safety in trusting any of them until you know who and what they are. Dr Gibbon does not deceive people by exhibiting bogus titles, certificates, pretended patients' letters etc. Dr Gibbon will satisfy persons who may call at his offices of his ability to treat diseases that he proposes to cure.

Address DR J F GIBBON, 623 Kearny street corner Commercial, San Francisco, Post Office Box 1 957
